

What did Christ do? What is humanity's problem? (adapted from Oden, 434-435)

Ignorance	Misery	Sin	Bound Will
Then the atonement is likely to be viewed as
Moral illumination and influence	Inauguration of a reign of happiness	Salvation by Christ in our place	Redemption from the curse of sin
The corresponding social predicament is viewed as
Lack of education	Poverty or neurosis	Willful rebellion	Demonic captivity
The predicament of the psychosomatic interface centers more particularly, in each case, up on the:
Ignorant mind	Sensate experience	Lost soul	Bound will
These theories of atonement have been principally formed in these four related complementary traditions:
Pelagian-Abelardian	Grotian-Arminian	Augustinian-Anselmian	Irenaeus-Cappadocian
Symbolic focus becomes trained upon:
Moral example	Executive clemency	Sacrifice	Victory
Each is ordinarily called by its key phrase:
Moral influence	Rectoral governance	Substitution	Christus Victor
Sometimes expressed by the summary term:
Martorial	Rectoral	Commercial	Dramatic
The prevailing tendency is:
Experiential-Subjectivist	Legal-administrative	Penal-substitutional	Ransom-doxological
Each has a special locus of influence within Protestantism without denying the others:
Liberal	Arminian	Calvinist	Lutheran
Key advocates of each tradition in the modern period are:
Schleiermacher	Miley	Hodge	Aulen
Each motif gives resistance to some theme regarded as potentially excessive:
Resists original sin	Resists imputation	Resists works-righteousness	Resists commercial metaphors
The potential problematic issue latent in the theory:
Pelagian optimism	Legalistic synergism	Predestination decrees	Antinomianism
Thematic focus:
The subject self	Moral reliability	Exchange	Conflict
Primary setting:
Intraphysic awareness	Public order	Transactional exchange	Demonic conflict overcome
Recent inheritors include:
Unitarianism	Liberation theology	Neo-evangelical theology	Neoclassical orthodoxy
